USCBC 49th Annual Meeting

June 14, 2022 | Washington, DC

Our Annual Membership Meeting will provide an overview of business and economic trends in China, examine where we are in the ongoing trade negotiations, and host a forum for members to discuss crucial US-China commercial policies with experts from various sectors.

Key Benefits

- Gain strategic intelligence and insights on economic and political developments affecting commercial relations with China, including forecasting of China policy priorities for the new presidential administration and incoming Congress.
- Listen to presentations from expert first-hand observers of China's economy and politics
- Acquire and share best practices for managing your company's strategic China plans with key stakeholders
- Network with fellow business executives, leading China watchers in the think tank community, and other special guests
